LUXURY COMMUNITY IN PRESCOTT OFFERS AN ESCAPE TO ARIZONA'S HIGH COUNTRY

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (March 5, 2009) – City dwellers in search of a quick getaway to a unique destination have a new escape. Talking Rock, a luxury golf community north of Prescott, Ariz., has introduced the “Stay and Play” package inclusive of all the amenities enjoyed at a high-end resort yet located in a much more exclusive setting.

The Stay and Play package includes a one-night stay for two in a fully furnished, 2,000-square foot Ranch Cottage offering stunning golf course and countryside views. A welcome basket complete with fine wine, gourmet snacks and vouchers for Coops - the community's coffee shop and cafe, will ensure a comfortable visit.

During their overnight stay, each guest can choose a round of golf on Talking Rock's 7,350-yard, Jay-Morrish-designed championship golf course or a massage at the community's private fitness center. Guests also will be treated to dinner at Morgan's Bar and Grill at The Ranch House, a recent recipient of Wine Spectator's Award of Unique Distinction. Overseen by Executive Chef Jeff Kincaid, Morgan's provides a high-end dining experience in an intimate and inviting atmosphere. The Stay and Play package also allows guests access to all of the other amenities available at Talking Rock, including miles of hiking/biking/jogging trails, state-of-the-art fitness center, regulation lap pool, and additional dining and lounging options.

Ensuring an effortless arrival, Talking Rock recently announced its partnership with Horizon Air. The airline has added daily non-stop flights from Los Angeles International Airport (LAX) to Prescott Municipal Airport providing guests easier access to and from the community from far away places, ticket discounts and other special promotional offers strictly for Talking Rock residents and guests.
